

At the Beach

The beach on a sunny summer day is a great place to be.

There is much to do and so much to see.

The water is warm and ready to swim in.

There are games for you to try and win.

Pick a spot and lay your towel down.

Find a friend or two and play around.

There isn't anything boring about a day at the shore.

You will want to come back for more.

When you've had your water fun and want to rest.

Playing in the sand is always best.

You can build whatever you desire,

Then let everyone come and admire.

How about a royal castle with a mote?

You can build a boat and hope it floats.

Bury yourself or a friend down deep.

Pile on the sand with some bucketful heaps.

Walk the shore and find a treasure.

Picking up shells will bring you pleasure.

Shells can be big or small. There are different kinds.

You'll be surprised at what you might find.

You need to wear lots of sunscreen lotion

Even when you're in constant motion.

Your skin will burn, and you'll be sore.

You might not want to come to the beach anymore.
